"I can wholeheartedly recommend Stephanie for any graphic design, web design or project management work. She was able to handle a tremendous amount and variety of work (read, challenges) in both print and electronic areas, and she did so expertly, all the while maintaining positive working relationships with clients of varying experience and abilities. She was efficient; still, the volume of work meant after-hours work, which she did without complaint. In all the time we worked together, I cannot remember one incident when she was anything but pleasant, cooperative and positive. Anyone who hires Stephanie will soon agree that she possesses both talent and professionalism, and be glad that they employed her services."
